

T. R. WINS ILLINOIS TWO TO ONE

SHOWS UP ESPECIALLY STRONG IN HOME DISTRICTS OF TAFT'S NATIONAL AND STATE CAMPAIGN MANAGERS: 150,000 MAJORITY

Democrats Prefer Champ Clark to Governor Wilson by About Two to One Governor Deneen, Republican, Selected Over Senator Lorimer's Candidate for Chief Executive of State - Dunne, Democrat, Leads in Race to Head His Party's State Ticket

CHICAGO, April 9.—Winners in the Illinois preferential primary and direct primary elections today, as indicated by efficient returns to warrant a prediction are as follows:

For president—Theodore Roosevelt, Republican; Champ Clark, Democrat.

For United States senator—L. Y. Sherman, Republican; James Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, (uncontested).

For governor—Charles S. Deneen, Republican; Edward F. Dunne, Democrat.

Colonel Roosevelt's state managers claimed his majority over President Taft as from 100,000 to 150,000. Returns indicate Roosevelt received more than two to one over Taft.

Presidential delegates were not counted on the ballots and will be elected by congressional districts and at large as without the primary, the effect of today's vote being only to serve as a guide to party officials as indicating party feeling. Illinois Republicans will have 55 votes in the Chicago convention.

Sherman's lead over Clifton for the governor vote for senator was significant complete returns from out in the state may overthrow the apparent result at midnight.

Deneen's About Five to Three.

Deneen's chief fight was against Governor Len Small, referred to the campaign as a candidate of Senator Lorimer. Advice six hours before the polls closed indicated Deneen won from the suburban area and re to three in the state. John E. Wayman also made a strong fight, adding Small in Cook county, which contains 1429 of the state's 4,200,000 in precincts. Deneen's majority in Cook county was 25,000. He Democratic contest for governor offered more opportunity for conference at midnight. Dunne had an indicated majority of 61,000 in Cook county, but Alschuler, his nearest competitor, appeared to be running well in the state that conservative elements of Dunne's majority were 10,000 to 20,000 in the state.

Congressional returns were delayed a authoritative estimates were impossible. Cook county voters appeared to favor E. M. Chipperfield and William F. Mason for the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large. Lawrence Stringer and either one P. Brennan or William E. Williams for the Democratic nomination.

Woman Suffrage Defeated.

Chicago voters voted two to one against woman suffrage in the preferential primaries. The question was on ballots outside of this city. Roosevelt's victory was not a respect of territory. He carried the home of Congressman William H. McElroy, Taft's campaign manager in campaign, he was as successful in seventeenth congressional district. He carried Frank L. Smith, the Taft campaign manager here, and Joseph Cannon's home, Danville. Roosevelt led 1,844 to Taft's 1,227.

Senator La Follette of Wisconsin made an appeal here, the Wisconsin senator had an apparent vote

ENDS TAFT'S HOPES FOR RENOMINATION

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Senator Taft's managers of the House today made a statement indicating that the following statement is correct:

"Illinois Republicans have indicated for Roosevelt's four renomination. The overwhelming repudiation of Taft by the Republicans in Illinois ends the Taft campaign for a renomination. Wherever legitimate primaries expression has been had, the Republican voters have utterly repudiated Taft. Certainly, no Republican leader can hope, doubt that an attempt to force Taft's nomination under these circumstances would be suicidal for the Republican party. Roosevelt will be nominated and will be triumphantly elected in November."

At Taft headquarters no comment was made. Representative McKinley of Illinois, director of the Taft campaign, did not visit the headquarters during the evening, and his associates said that returns were so incomplete as to make comment impossible.

The news of the heavy Clark vote polled in Illinois was conveyed to Speaker Clark by telephone.

"That's the best news I've heard since the last baby was born," said the speaker.

J. W. SPAHR MADE ASSISTANT SUPT.

Midland Trainmaster at Cardiff Fills Vacancy Made by Phelps' Promotion

John W. Spahr, trainmaster for the Colorado Midland, with headquarters at Cardiff, Colo., has been appointed assistant superintendent to fill the vacancy left by Merritt L. Phelps, recently made superintendent, succeeding Fred R. Miller, resigned. Mr. Miller goes to a road in California. Mr. Spahr's appointment becomes effective April 15. The position of trainmaster will be abolished until the traffic becomes heavy enough to warrant its reestablishment.

Mr. Spahr has been employed by the Midland for about 12 years, starting as a brakeman on the second division, west of Leadville. Later he was advanced to conductor, and about two years ago was made trainmaster. He is married and has one son, who is attending school in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Spahr will arrive in Colorado City about April 14.

E. C. BARTLETT, PIONEER, SUFFERS FROM PARALYSIS

Ephraim C. Bartlett, Civil war veteran and an early pioneer of Colorado Springs, was stricken with paralysis last Sunday morning, and is in a serious condition at his home, 230 East Yampa street. The stroke affected Mr. Bartlett's vocal cords only, and he is able to get around the house. His condition is not thought to be dangerous.

Toward the latter part of the Civil war Mr. Bartlett enlisted in the Twelfth Maine Infantry, and fought throughout the remainder of the war, when he again returned to his home and took up blacksmithing. In 1873 he married Miss Rose Powers, and about nine years later removed to this city, where he has resided since.

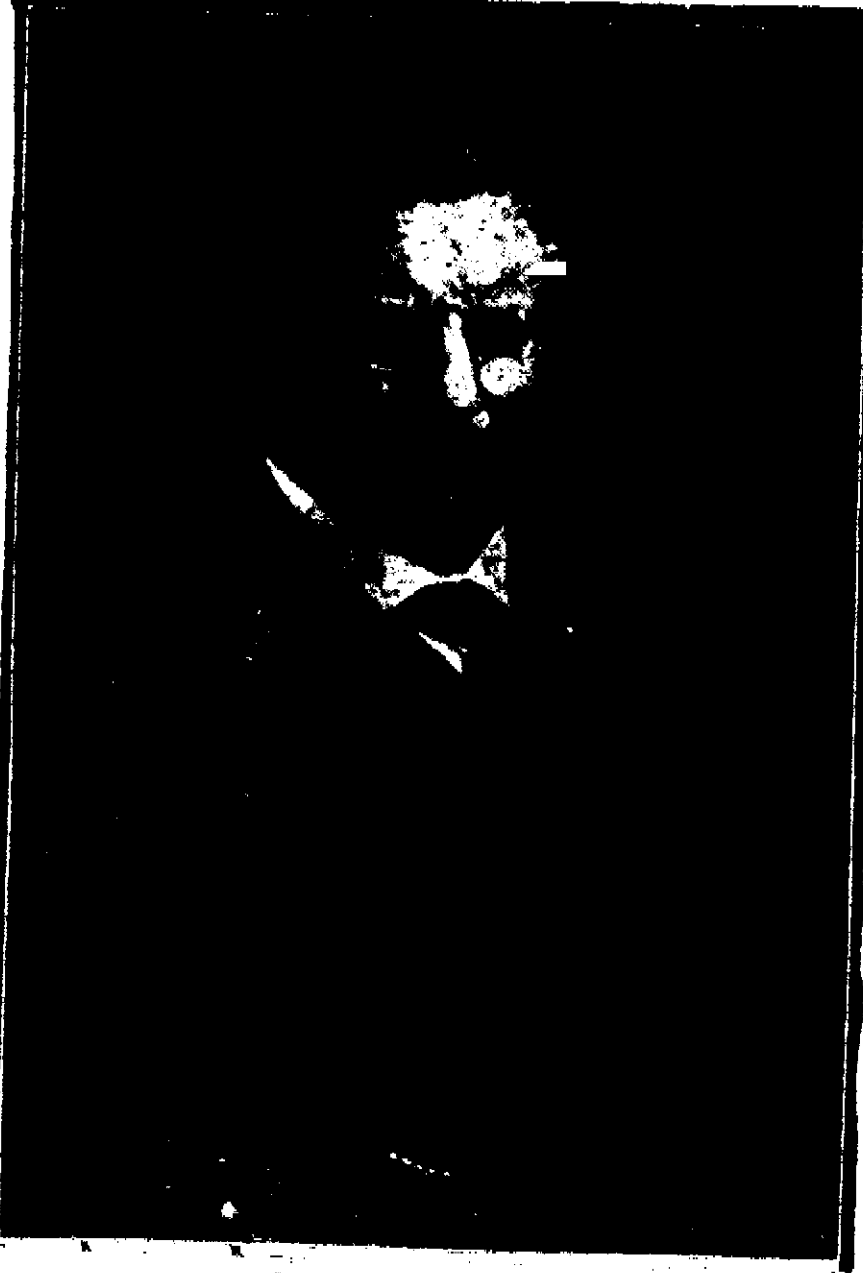

Upon arriving in Colorado Springs, Mr. Bartlett started a blacksmith shop and for several years owned the large lot on the city. Later, as a side line, he started to deal in real estate, and at one time owned considerable property here.

Invited in Cripple Creek.

When the strike was made at Cripple Creek, Mr. Bartlett went to the gold camp and invested in a number of shares. The investments proved unwise, and he came back to this city and again started his blacksmith shop, which he had been operating ever since until a few weeks ago.

Mr. Bartlett was a great factor in local politics during the 90s, and at one time was side-man from the ward containing the southeastern part of the city. His friends often said that "he carried the ward around in his vest pocket."

Mr. Bartlett has five children: F. Arthur Bartlett, a prominent musician; George P. Bartlett of the firm of De. Oelt, H. H. Hutton, and Mrs. F. A. Bartlett, all of this city, and two other sons, one in California and one in Denver.

DEESZ IN FIRST PLACE, U. S. TEST

COLLEGE SENIOR AT TOP; HUNDREDS CONCERNED

Well-Known Athlete in Line For Position Assistant Physicist, Washington

Louis Deesz, a senior and prominent athlete at Colorado college, yesterday received notice from the bureau of standards at Washington that he took first place in the examinations recently held in Denver for the position of assistant physicist at Washington. Several hundred took the examinations, including a number who have been in the employ of the bureau for some time. Deesz' grade was 22 1/2. He has not received any appointment yet.

The success of Deesz is regarded as a big boost for the engineering school of Colorado college. He is captain of the baseball team and played on the football team last year. His home is in Denver, and he is a graduate of the Denver Manual Training High school. He is a prominent member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

This is the third time in the last few weeks that a student of the college has been recognized in a signal manner by the government. Another of the best athletes, Herbert G. Sinton, was offered a position in the government physical training in the Philippines, but he would have to sail by the fifteenth of this month, and decided that graduation meant more to him than the position at this time.

Oliver C. Ralston, a graduate of the college in 1906, is now assistant chemist in the bureau of mines at Pittsburgh, Pa., which he secured a few weeks ago by winning the highest average in a competitive test.

WIFE WRITES DIVORCE HUSBAND; TO WED AGAIN

Life on a ranch at Elliott, this county, without the aid of a man's helping hand was too much for Mrs. Anna Sandburg, 44 years old, so a few weeks ago she wrote a letter to her former husband, Frank Sandburg, at Denver, asking him to return in order to look after the place and start over again. And as a result Sandburg came to Colorado Springs yesterday and obtained a marriage license. They will be married at Elliott today, according to their plans. Sandburg is 41 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandburg were divorced in the county court here July 15, 1911, she charging intemperance. Following the granting of the decree, Sandburg turned everything over to his wife and left the country.

"But I was just as anxious to get back as she was to have me back," Sandburg said yesterday afternoon. "I think our separation did us both good, as it shows us how much we need each other. We talked it all over." Elliott is about 13 miles east of Colorado Springs.

Sons And Daughters of Veterans To Wear The Bronze G. A. R. Button

STOCKTON, Cal., April 9.—The bronze button of the Grand Army of the Republic, a decoration rapidly becoming extinct with the passing of the men who fought the battles of the Union, has become a source of concern to the G. A. R., department of California and Nevada now in session here.

A resolution, introduced today, authorizes sons and daughters of the veterans to wear the button, that it may not vanish altogether.

The plan would close the main street from the intersection of the city and the main street, and the plan would be authorized by the city council.

The meeting was addressed by D. F. Carpenter of this city, who discussed the plan to close the main street, and the plan would be authorized by the city council.

FURTHER PROTEST IS DECIDED UPON

Cripple Creek Strongly Opposes Springs Land Bill. Action Great Surprise

Further protest against the Colorado Springs-Mountain land bill was decided upon yesterday afternoon at a conference between the county commissioners of Teller county, the city council of Victor and representatives of Cripple Creek and the Beaver valley, held in the city and at Victor. It was determined at the meeting to send more telegrams of protest to the Colorado representatives in congress against the passage of the bill. The county and city officials will unite in the effort to defeat the measure.

This comes as a decided surprise to local authorities, inasmuch as the Victor and Cripple Creek representatives during their conference here last Monday with Colorado Springs and Manitou officials, promised to withdraw their protest if their engineers verified the statement of the officers here, namely, that the land in question is all on the north and east slope of Pike Peak, and hence does not affect the water rights of the Cripple Creek district, which are concerned with the south and west slopes of the Peak.

It was reported yesterday afternoon that the Cripple Creek Water company would withdraw its protest, and the formal decision to withdraw by the joint conference also was expected.

For many years, residents of the gold camp have expressed dissatisfaction over the water supply secured by Colorado Springs from Pike Peak, and at one time it was an open secret that representatives from the Cripple Creek district forcibly diverted a large supply of water from the Springs reservoirs to their own reservoirs. At various times Colorado Springs has given water to Victor in time of need.

ROOSEVELT CHARGES SCANDALOUS ABUSE FEDERAL PATRONAGE, SUPPORTED BY THE ADMINISTRATION

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 9.—"No scandalous abuse of federal patronage has ever been seen than was seen here in the last two days," Colonel Roosevelt said in regard to the government service in which he tonight.

Colonel Roosevelt charged that the federal Taft bureau was making an attempt to debauch the federal service and that it was impossible that bureau could be acting "without political support and approval of administration."

He also asserted that in Kentucky, according to advice which reached him from Edward O'Rear, chief justice of that state, had been in the lowest kind of fraud.

Clearly to establish the nature of the situation, he declared, "No one can be so foolish as to believe that the federal service is not being debauched by the administration."

HOME LABOR EMPLOYED

LAST Sunday we printed a letter, in the Open Parliament from the secretary of the local Building Trades Council vigorously protesting against the alleged employment of out-of-town labor on the street paving job. The writer's use of the phrase, "now comes the importation of Greeks, Mexicans and other foreigners to do the work on our street paving," was, in effect, a charge that the city officials had deliberately refrained from using their influence to secure the employment of local men in this important public improvement.

Careful inquiry among city officials, contractors and others who ought to know the facts in the case shows that this assumption is wholly unwarranted. The writer of the letter criticized the Council for not making it a condition of the paving contract that only local labor be employed, in apparent ignorance of the fact that such condition would be wholly impractical, for it would have had the effect of forcing all bidders to name higher figures to protect themselves against possible difficulty in obtaining such labor as they needed in the local market at reasonable prices.

The truth is that the contractors have shown absolute willingness to employ local men wherever possible, and they have been constantly urged to do so by Commissioner Lawton and other city officials. Necessarily a few skilled men must be brought here, such as those who have technical knowledge of the mixing of asphalt, etc., but by far the greater part of the money spent for labor will be paid to unskilled laborers, nearly all of whom have already been employed, and according to the best information we are able to obtain, these are almost all local men.

CRIMINAL FOLLY

ALONG the Mississippi River from St.
Louis to the Gulf of Mexico many thousands of people have been made homeless by the floods of the last few days. Immense tracts of country are under water—in Tennessee alone forty-five townships are inundated—and everywhere these lands are fertile and productive. Of course it is impossible for anybody to estimate the damage with reasonable correctness, but yesterday's dispatches say that thirty fatalities would be a conservative estimate of the loss of life up to date, and that the property loss already exceeds $10,000,000.

And the end is by no means in sight.
The crest of the flood has not passed. Before its fury is abated other lives and other millions of property will be sacrificed.
When it finally subsides the traveler along the lower Mississippi will be confronted with the spectacle of countless thousands of acres of ruined farms, and of devastated towns and villages, inhabited by a forlorn and bankrupt people.

And this is the logical result of a governmental policy which for many years has been a disgrace to the nation. It is easy enough, and to some of the politicians in Washington, it may be vastly comforting, to attribute this disaster to Providence.
The truth is that to blame it on Providence is nothing less than sacrilege. If the people who inhabit those portions of Holland that are below sea level were to permit their dikes to fall into disrepair and thus allow their lands to be flooded and themselves to be made homeless, they could, with as good reason, attribute the disaster to an act of Providence.

The fact is that ever since the Mississippi Valley became United States territory Congress has been fully aware that the region immediately tributary to the lower river is subject to annual floods. Long before most of the people now on earth were born Congress began voting annual appropriations to build levees to protect the low-lying country along the river from these overflows. The appropriations have been continued from year to year, but it is not a secret that most of the money has been shamefully wasted. A part of it has been honestly spent, much of it has been shamefully misapplied, and there is some reason for believing that a small part of it has been shamefully misapplied. At any rate the Congress certainly has not received benefits at all commensurate with its expenditures.

THE PORK
BARREL
BILL.
Improvements are carried in the annual Rivers and Harbors bill, which is frankly and avowedly the "pork barrel" measure of each session. It is, or should be, an extremely important measure, but in actual practice it is made the vehicle whereby all "good" congressmen are rewarded for faithful service to the party by having their own pet appropriations included. The congressmen from the "Steenh Missouri District"—provided he has been "good" and voted according to instructions of all party measures—is given an appropriation of $50,000 with which to dredge the channel of Coon Creek, which may or may not be as much as three feet deep at high water, but which certainly is not, and never could be made, a navigable stream. But just the same it makes that congressman solid with his constituents, for it means that $50,000 of government money will be spent in their district. This process, repeated in every Congressional district, absorbs most of the money which the Government spends for river and harbor improvement.

It would not be so bad if the sums voted for the improvement of the Missouri and Ohio, and more particularly the lower Mississippi, were honestly and intelligently spent. But in actual practice the procedure is something like this: One session of Congress votes, say, $1,000,000 as the initial appropriation for a big, comprehensive plan of river work. The engineers make a beginning and continue their work until the appropriation is exhausted, confidently believing that the next session of Congress will make another appropriation to enable them to continue it. But perhaps, when the next session convenes, Congress has undergone some political change, and for purely political reasons it withholds the needed appropriation. The result is that the work is left half finished—even worse, it is left in just such condition that the next spring flood will sweep it away, utterly destroying what has already been done.

In nearly every European nation there are important streams which are subject to spring floods, and which, if not as large as the Mississippi, nevertheless carry a commerce vastly more important. But there is not another nation in the world that has displayed such utter stupidity in dealing with the problem as has the United States. In other countries governments have frankly recognized the nature of the trouble and adopted the obvious method of dealing with it, but here Congress insists on treating it as a political question and has attempted to avert the disastrous consequences of floods by distributing its money among the politicians. And the result is a property loss every year almost great enough to pay the entire cost of a system of river improvement which would really protect the adjacent country from overflow.

The Two Poles

By WALT MASON

The Poles, which had been lost for ages, discovered at last, have men toiled on by weary stages, through snow and howling blast, with frozen feet and cheeks they moaned, with frozen hands and fears, and solved the problem which had worried the world a thousand years, and terrible dire came forth to greet them, and doctors thronged the way, and polar bears of old tried to eat them, as horses eat their hay. The Arctic night came down and found them shivering in the gloom; and Arctic phantoms streaked around them, and wailed of death and doom. Yet uncomplaining and undaunted did these explorers march, until they found the poles they wanted, and shipped the blighted things home. Thus saviors came to the bidder who pays the price of gold, and he is bemoaned when I consider how I raise broke turmoil over little obstacles that face me when I may task pursue. I plainly see it must disgrace me to raise a howdydo. So after this I'll be like Peary and Amundsen the bold, and struggle on, though heart be weary, and both my feet are cold.

CENTERSHOTS

By ED HOWE

A woman makes rather less interesting reading than a man, except in a scandal.

The dictionary is backed by no better authority than the decalogue; but if the present desire for a "change" keeps up, people will finally spell words wrong, and insist that it is a better way.

"Because the Diaz government in the heat we have ever had," the Mexican said. "It does not follow that we may not find a better." But they didn't find it; some of our worst mistakes are made in discarding a good thing to look for a better.

Of the many things you hear, what percent do you let in on ear and not the other? Probably you mean much that you shouldn't, and let many good things not away with the chaff.

When a man is afraid of the future, and sorry for the past, you can't expect very much more from him.

When a man says he saw twenty or thirty quail in one flock, I know he saw less than twenty.

When you call at a house, and the phonograph is turned on for your amusement, they are sure to stick in Corsets.

Don't walk the floor over politics; let the candidates do it.

Men don't like wives who are forever putting on the gloves with them; around home a man wants it understood that he is champion.

THE CHIT- CHAT- BY RUTH CAMERON

One of the comments which my little talk on the psychology of names called forth was so interesting that I must pass it on. I wrote about the way in which names seem to be used in a certain way in a generation of Ruths, then one of Dorothy's, then a clerk of Elizabeth's. My letter friend writes:

"I took 'Tuesdays in May' which was published in I think early in 1912. I read about it about 20 women and girls in July of that year. One of the most lovable characters in the book was Eva, and I know you have known, as some of them have passed away, seven girls who were born between that time and July of 1895, who were named Eva. To one who can read a far back as I am, it is interesting to see that some of the names of our younger school girls (as I went to school then at 5, and sometimes at 6, years of age) are being dropped, and now such as 'Elizabeth',
'Evelyn', 'Hester', 'Margaret',
'Barbara', 'Olive', 'Milly',
'Miriam' and many others.

To any of my readers who can remember the days of which she speaks, I think this comment must be especially interesting.

"It is a great trial to me," said a woman who was born into a very large family and married into another. "I cannot remember with gifts all the birthdays in our two families, but it is simply impossible. Why, just think, I have 15 sisters and brothers, read and in-law, 27 nephews and nieces, and about 35 uncles and aunts and cousins. That would mean more than one gift a week if I tried to remember them all."

To this woman and to you, if you are one of those people who like to remember the birthdays of your friends and relatives, but reckon too many of them to afford any real gift, I suggest the plan which one dear old lady of my acquaintance follows. She has a book in which she keeps the birthdays of all her friends. With the help of this memorandum she sends each of them a card, telling them that she is thinking of them and wishing them happiness throughout the coming year.

Having been a recipient of one of these cards I know the thrill of pleasure which one feels on being thus unexpectedly remembered and congratulated by someone who was under no obligation to do so.

I recommend the plan anyone who likes to do kind things.

"I have made up my mind that many unpleasant things are said and done," writes one of my letter-friends, "and I have decided to stop. I have not had their attention called to them, and I think you might really surprise some people by letting them know that operations are not pleasant subjects for a luncheon table. I have several times had my appetite leave me on account of some vivid description of an operation, the speaker even going so far as to tell what the doctor found and the amount of pus removed. Now I know that everybody will say it must have been a very ignorant person who would talk of such things, but that is not so. I have in mind a woman of education and standing who did this very thing."

I trust that my friend's optimistic belief that people do things like this simply because they have not had their attention called to them will be justified.

OPEN- PARLIAMENT

"BAWLED OUT."

In an editorial article of April 2, the Telegraph states that they have refused the advertising of a number of sample shoe stores recently located here, as they did not believe that such competition was fair to the home merchant, that the business of Colorado Springs belongs to the Colorado Springs business man who has his money invested here, whose employees live here, and who pays rent, taxes and wages right here in Colorado Springs. They also published in the same paper a portion of an article copied from the Saturday Evening Post in answer to the Telegraph, I wish to say first of all that I went to Mr. Elliott and asked the privilege of answering the article in his paper, and he refused, saying I had better answer it where it was advertising. He said he had sent his advertising man for my advertising and that I would not give it to him. I said "No, I would not, for when I asked to put an ad in your paper you refused. But just as soon as the Gazette printed an ad for me you were no longer afraid to take my ads." Still the Telegraph says they have ALWAYS refused all advertising of this nature and will continue to do so, of course my name was not mentioned in the article, but they did refuse my ads at one time and I am the original sample shoe man in Colorado Springs, so of course I was included. I cannot speak for any store but my own. I am neither a fake, a stranger or a transient in Colorado Springs. I came here April 24, 1900, nearly 12 years ago, and seven years of that time have been in business for myself here. I pay rents, taxes and employ clerks that live here and spend their money here. As for my shoes, I can prove them to be just what I advertise them to be. I claim to give $3.50 to $5.00 values for $2.50 and $3.50 and sell for cash. This is that I buy right for cash and sell for cash. I am upstairs where rent is low, have few fixtures for the people to see, and am satisfied with a small store. My business is as legitimate as any store in Colorado Springs, or the Telegraph either. The article copied from the Saturday Evening Post is not true so far as my business is concerned. The Telegraph, in their editorial, state that the article taken from the Saturday Evening Post described the sample shoe store as same, and that is not true of my business either.

I am sure my business is more honorable than some kinds of business I have seen advertised in the Telegraph lately. I will close by asking the public to trade with the home merchants, of which I am one.

Colorado Springs, April 3.

THE OTHER SIDE.

With your permission I should like to say a few words regarding the misleading statement made in the Open Parliament issue of April 9, about Dr.
C. Carr of Columbus, O.

It is untrue that he is connected with the Ferrus company, and the "pseudo-medical journal" of which he is editor, is a strong and helpful publication for the home, not favored by the "regulars." Of course, for the reason that it takes too much sense and invaluable knowledge of things medical, directly to the home; and because its editor does not hesitate to scathingly expose some of their pet medical grafts, viz., vaccination, the antitoxin and serum fallacies, and the too-often needless operation. While it condemns the medical shark, it gives all due credit and honor to the truly conscientious practitioner.

I know Dr. Carr to be a man of uprightness and integrity, a highly respected resident of his city and state.

The "regulars" will gain nothing by "calling names." Those who, like myself, suffered for years with no help from the doctors, to be finally released by them to an immediate operation or death, or an alternative, having found health and strength outside their inflexible ranks, will not readily submit to attempts, however heavily veiled, to have our freedom in vital matters to the right to choose our method of healing, wrested from us.

I am not a member of the League of Medical Freedom, but without doubt shall finally find myself enrolled among them if I read many more such misstatements as that regarding Dr.
Carr.

I was restored to health by the methode advocated by Bennett MacFadden, who is to lecture at Temple Theater, April 11 and 12. It will pay those who are disgusted with the futile swallowing of drugs to hear him.

A. B. BAKER
Colorado Springs, April 3.

AGAINST IT.

To the Editor of The Gazette.

As much has been said on the merits of a national board of health, will you allow me the space to say a few words.

First, of what benefit to the public would a national department of health be?

Second—is it not possible to instruct the individual how to live and thus secure health for the people without the machinery of government?

Third—Please differ on the question of health and disease, why not give the people a chance to choose who shall administer to their needs. The allopathic school is in power; the allopathic school is advocating the national department of health, and is it not probable that they would continue same to the exclusion of other schools?

It is true, as Senator Owen states, from the examination of health statistics, that the health of the people of this country is deplorable, after hundreds of years of allopathic supervision, would it not be far better to inject a little common sense into the medical profession than to continue to be compelled to undergo a system of drug experimentation, compulsory serum therapy and experimental bacteriology?

The people should have access to clean and pure foods, certainly, but will a department of public health attempt to do this better than the department of agriculture? Will a thousand or more employees holding public office at Washington make our health better or come nearer to the citizen than the physician at the bedside?

There should be personal freedom in religion, medical, and all other related conditions between man and man. The people are already oppressed with medical law without creating an allopathic monopoly. Some states are proposing that the compulsory vaccination law be repealed for citizens is oppressive and odious to Americans, but at the same time the government is compelling the enlisted men of the army and navy to be vaccinated. Within the past few weeks men on the battleship Vermont were cast into irons in the effort to force upon them typhoid vaccination.

The following clipping from the Brooklyn Times should cause every liberty-loving American to demand his rights under the constitution.

Two hundred men on the battleship Vermont at Guantanamo, declining to submit to typhoid vaccination, mutilated and the crew of the Minnesota had to be called to assist in quelling the trouble. The mutineers were put in irons and forced to submit to the disease of their surgeons. When the order to submit to the typhoid vaccination was posted there was some objection from every vessel of the fleet. On the Vermont the opposition was so strong that when a few of the bolder men declined to submit, some joined them. Orders from the commander failed to get them in line. Although threatened with irons, the men declined to permit the vaccinations to proceed, fully two hundred joining the protest.

I do not wonder that there are so many desertions from the army and navy if such high-handed actions take place. The boys cannot defend themselves; their own comrades are called upon to put them in irons so that the surgeon could apply the disease to their blood. Is it right to brand a human being against his will? Will it ever be right to take away the American citizen's right to choose? Is it not probable that a national department of health would go farther and vaccine the employees of the government from the president down, and then carry vaccination into the homes of the citizens of Colorado Springs and elsewhere?

I regard any form of medical compulsion with disfavor. The care of the sick are questions safer in the hands of the bedside practitioner of whatever school he may be than when directed by a few men stationed at Washington. It is natural that public sanitary will make most of their brief authority in office. The medical department is no exception.
Medical departments are mad with zeal to perform vivisections and to manufacture serum and vaccine. Take away the bacteriological laboratory, its guinea pigs, mice, rats, dogs and cat-tles, and what would the paid experimenters find to occupy their time. Not alone are they content to experiment on animals, but they try to pass laws allowing them to experiment upon our public school children against our wish. Will you stand it?

YOUNG GIRL PROVES HER BRAVERY; PUTS OUT FIRE

DENVER, April 8.—In spite of the fire which leaped at her, threatening at every moment to ignite her light summer dress, and with apparent disregard for the smoke which choked her and made her stagger repeatedly to the window for air, Marie Lawrence, a 16-year-old daughter of David Lawrence, a salesman of 230 Lawrence street, fought a stubborn battle in the kitchen of her home yesterday and extinguished it before the arrival of the fire apparatus.

The girl was alone in the house, when the odor of smoke attracted her attention. It appeared to come from the back part of the house and running to the kitchen to investigate, the child discovered the greater part of the floor in flames.

Hurrying to the door of her home, the girl directed a boy to call the fire apparatus. Then she made her way back to the kitchen and commenced to fight the flames.

Jumping over several portions of burning floor, Marie reached the front door. The smoke choked her and the heat was intense, but the girl rushed out and called a neighbor to assist her in getting on the ladder. The fire engine reached the corner just as the child's last painful, with toiling effort, bit the last tongue of flame.

Choosing Our Parents

(Copyright 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.)

(Copyright 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.)
"Alack! and alas! doesn't it seem a pity that the majority of us are not enabled by the ways of creation to choose our own parents? If we could but order them to our liking, who would not have a mother, the most beautiful of women, and as good and sweet as she was fair? And a father, would he not be brave, handsome, and strong?"

We would have him braver of all qualities, capable of making a fortune for us to spend at our leisure, blazing the way for us through a pathway of thorns, eliminating them as he went along planting in their stead barbarous roses for our feet to tread upon.

As is the case now with many a one, mothers are fretful and exasperated, fathers tired and willing to lay down the reins of support, and the time that his youngsters are fairly launched in their teens. He keeps an eye on the boys, rearing them from jovial companions in the wee sma' hours, and he sits down on the merry young fellows who would come a-courting the girls. Whereas, if we could have our way about it, fathers would never interfere with love affairs. There would never be stormy interviews with would-be lovers.

The majority of girls would appreciate the mother who is an accomplished housewife and who would not interfere with the daughter as she sat dreamily over the piano for hours, or in her room, a weeping forecast poetry as befitting some lover. There's many a girl and young man old-fashioned enough to be perfectly satisfied; nay, not only to say delighted, but thankful for the parents they now possess.

They would not have them anything else but what they are for the whole wide world. Such sons and daughters are grateful for the privilege of being able to lift the care from the father's shoulders and to do the smoothing of the pathway for the tired feet which have grown weary of stumbling over rough places. Take it all in all, the way the creator has managed affairs is far wiser and far better than we could do, could we have a voice in selecting our progenitors. Each one has God-given characteristics which can be found in no other human being on earth.

Even the worst traits of parents should be condoned by the children, who are sent to them to make up for their sufferings and the world's ills.
Those who complain in any way against the parents reflect upon the wisdom of the creator, who knows our wants better than we do and deals through us with the wages of generations yet to come. We ought never to murmure at the parents who own us, proud of us, with never an inkling crossing their minds that we are in any way dissatisfied with them. All the wishing in the world could never change matters, and if we had our way, we might make some bad blunders.

ANSWERS.
Dear Miss Libbey: I have been going with a girl for about six months, and think a good deal of her, but we aren't engaged. Last night I failed to keep an appointment on account of a sudden engagement in a business way. She accused me of being with some other girl. Now, shortly after I got acquainted with her, I promised not to go with other girls, which I have kept. Shall I ignore the accusation, or what shall I do? A. R.

tude toward you displeases and dis-

THREE WEALTHY STUDENTS.
"Dear Miss Libbey: We are three wealthy university students and are considered as being high in social ranks. Several months ago, at a termity banquet, it was our pleasure to culture the acquaintance of three charming co-eds. Up to a short time ago we have been mutually affectionately devoted, and have showered them with numerous attentions in the way of eating, the foregoing, etc."

"However, unfortunately, a misunderstanding arose between one of the couples, caused, as we have every reason to believe, by a jealous fellow student, which falsely detracted from her popularity. Since this disagreeable incident occurred we have noticed a decided coolness on the part of the other two young ladies, which to our knowledge was caused by no fault of ours as we have always treated them with respect."

"We are, therefore, quite at a loss to understand the attitude these young ladies have taken, and would sincerely appreciate your good advice in enlightening, as these young ladies are near and dear to us and we cannot for a moment harbor thoughts of relinquishing their friendship. Kindly advise what we may do to again regain the lost love that we are so confidently entertained in their hearts."

Away With Catarrh A Filthy Disease

If you are subject to frequent colds, or if you have any of the distressing symptoms of catarrh, such as stuffed up feeling in the head, itching, discharge from the nose, sore in the nostril, phlegm in the throat, sneezing, hawking and spitting, dull pain in the head or ringing in the ears, just apply the nostril or rub the throat or chest with a little Ely's Cream Balm, and see how quickly you will get relief.

In a few minutes you will feel your head clearing, and after using the Balm for a day or so the nasty discharge will be checked, the pain, soreness and fever gone, and you will no longer be offensive to yourself and your friends by constantly hawking, spitting and blowing.

Shake off the grip of catarrh before it impairs your sense of taste, smell and hearing and poisons your whole system. In a short time you can be completely cured of this distressing disease by using Ely's Cream Balm. This healing, antiseptic Balm does not feed you by short, deceptive relief, but completely overcomes the disease. It clears the nose, head and throat of all the rank poison, soothes, heals and strengthens the raw, sore membranes, making you proof against colds and catarrh.

Time application will convince you, and a 50-cent bottle will generally cure the worst case of catarrh. It is guaranteed. Get it from your druggist today. Special Agent, the Robinson Drug Co.

Try to Identify Woman Found Beside Dead Man

NEW YORK, April 9.—The police today set about solving the identity of the woman found yesterday beside the body of Louis G. Parra, director of the New York Conservatory of Music, who died suddenly in his room from natural causes but under unusual circumstances. The woman, who was pronounced by a physician to be suffering from mental strain, is confined in Bellevue hospital for observation.

She shed little light on her identity when questioned by authorities there.

Mrs. Mary Clinton, the housekeeper at the conservatory where Parra had his lodgings, was the only one in the building apparently who knew of the woman's existence. To Mrs. Clinton she was nameless. The housekeeper told the police that she thought the woman was Parra's wife or daughter—she did not know which—and that during the eight years in which the

ZOO FIELD IN GOOD SHAPE FOR GAME WITH GRIZZLIES

Great interest is being taken among baseball fans of the city in the game of the Denver Grizzlies, scheduled for the Western league, tomorrow afternoon at Zoo park, and under weather, a record-breaking crowd is likely to turn out. This will be the opening game of the season at the new ballpark, as well as the only chance local fans have to see the Western league's best winners in action, at least quite late in the season.

The Grizzlies will line up just as well as the season the first of the week, as this is one of a series of strenuous practice games. Manager Hendricks is putting his squad through the Zoo park, and the Grizzlies will have a strong lead against them, but as the pitching staff of the local team is not in shape, Manager Gall has secured two "Pondicherry" crack pitchers to "dish out" with Ostrander and Schreiner in the box for the Zoo, the Grizzlies will be kept busy getting safe, and the fans will see the end of the pitching staff in action, as Hendricks will probably use Peffer, Kinsella and Kinsella against the Zoo. The lineup of the Zoo will not be determined until this afternoon, but Gall has already secured three of the best hitting catchers in the state for the backstop work, with the star shortstop of the Grizzlies of Denver, three men with Hastings, Gall and Kelly in the outfield. Peffer at third, Ayer at second, and Powell at first will make up a strong hitting and fielding aggregation.

This afternoon the squad will be put through a good workout starting at 2:30, with a practice game against the High School Terrors at 3 o'clock.

Next to the fact that the Grizzlies will be seen in action, interest centers in the improvements that have been made to the Zoo baseball ground, and will be in fine shape. The entire ball yard has been scraped, graded and rolled, so that it is almost perfectly level and smooth, and as soon as a heavy rain allows the soil in the outfield to pack under the roller, it will be an ideal field. The diamond has also been swung around enough to bring the left field foul line exactly at the corner of the fence, giving a full field, and the extreme right field has been filled in to the foul line. The infield will be rolled today and tomorrow, and, with other minor improvements that have been made, the ball yard will be one of the fastest in the state.

Tomorrow's game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp, with Dr. Murphy, who is well known as an umpire on the coast, probably handling the indicator. The street car company will furnish ample car service, and entrance will be by the main entrance to the park. Automobiles will enter as heretofore, by the left field gate, as there has not been time to arrange for a new automobile entrance.

STRONG BILL ARRANGED FOR ATHLETIC BENEFIT

An excellent program has been arranged for the fans in the benefit athletic exhibition to be given for Jimmy Mack Friday evening at Tommy Ryan's studio. Almost all of the talent of the Pike Peak region have promised to take part.

The feature of the bill will be a handicap match in which Tommy Ryan agrees to throw Noble, Mirrie and the Kansas Farmer in 20 minutes. The men are well known to the fans and it is a safe bet that Ryan will have more than he can handle.

Howard and Borden have agreed to oppose each other in a bout, and Cecil E. Motes and John Wister, two 66-pound chaps from Colorado City will help amuse the crowd in a mat match. Cal Reed and Young Spooner will also take part in the bill, followed by a match between Young Woods and Kid Jackson.

PURYEAR WHIPS PAPPAS

JOPLIN, Mo., April 9.—Jimmy Pappas, a Greek from New Orleans, as a possible contender for bantamweight honors, was eliminated here tonight in a 15-round bout with Earl Puryear of Denver, 105-pound champion of America. The Denver boy whipped the Greek decisively in a fast bout.

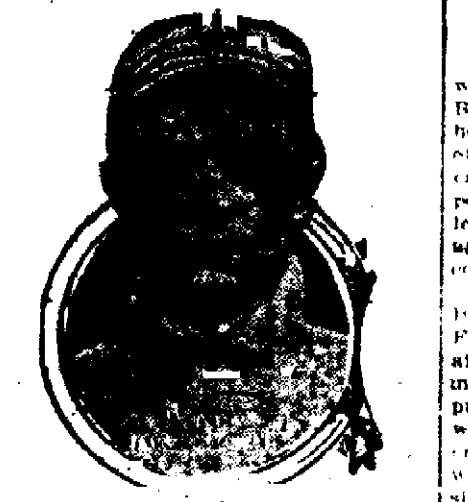

TWO MEN RELEASED

ST. LOUIS, April 9.—The St. Louis American team today released Pitcher Melton Wolfang and First Baseman Miller to the Lowell (Massachusetts) team.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Word was received here today of the death in Berlin last Saturday of James H. McCormick, for many years one of the best known horse trainers of the American turf. He was 56 years old.

The St. Louis Browns have given up hopes of making a catcher out of Joe Kutina, and with George Stovall at first about the only thing left for him on the tallenders is to fill a Dode Criss role.

Connie Mack has sent Pitcher Anker Jensen back to law school in Chicago, and Pitcher Edward McCleary back to his college in the east. Neither showed what was wanted, but Connie told them to keep on trying.

HARRY DAVIS
Former star first baseman of the world's champion Athletics and now manager of the Cleveland Indians. Davis is one of the most popular players in the American league circuit, and baseball fans the country over are hoping that he is successful in his efforts with a team that has always been made up of first-class material but, somehow or other, never showed to the best advantage.

SALT LAKE BOXER ASKS FOR MATCH WITH BROWN

William J. (Kid) Harrison is out with a challenge, directed at Kid Brown of this city. Harrison came here a few weeks ago for the purpose of making this his headquarters in a campaign against him of the 134-pound class in the state. The challenge issued by Brown a few days ago led Harrison to believe that he could arrange for a match.

Harrison hails from Salt Lake City. In the recent argument between Jim Flynn and Tony Capone, Harrison added Flynn in preparing for the match. The last few days he has been preparing Frank Agee for his match with Billy Tillman. Harrison holds credentials that show him to be a willing mixer as well as a scientific pugilist.

TILLMAN AND AGEE ARE READY FOR THEIR BOUT

FRANK AGEE, Salt Lake City Boxer Who Meets Billy Tillman of Cripple Creek Before the Minors Club, Tomorrow Night.

The bout scheduled for tomorrow night between Billy Tillman of this city and Frank Agee of Salt Lake City, at Cripple Creek, promises to be one of the fastest that has ever been pulled off by members of the Minor Athletic club of the mining town.

Tillman and Ryan have been doing all their preliminary work at Tommy Ryan's studio in this city, but Agee will leave this morning for Cripple Creek where he will finish up. Agee is new to this section and he wants to become accustomed to the higher altitude before taking chances on a long route. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds.

Agee and Tillman are both confident of being returned winners, even though this will be the first time they have ever measured strength with each other.

"I realize that I am going to have some trouble with my breathing apparatus," said Agee last night, "but I think that I will have enough wind to carry me over the set course."

Tillman has been training strenuously for the bout, and announced last night that he was ready for the fray. He says that the altitude nor nothing else will prevent him from winning. Tillman will have a best workout this evening and expects to leave early tomorrow morning for Cripple Creek.

DECISION IS GIVEN MOHA OVER F. HICKS

NEW YORK, April 9.—Mohr of Milwaukee won his third bout in the east tonight by outboxing Fred Hicks of Newark in seven of 10 rounds. Mohr scored 107 points and Hicks 104. Mohr was the victor in a points loss.

Mohr showed the fighting from the beginning with swift left foot and right hand blows. After moving a right swing in the third, Hicks was punished hard on the body, but he came back in the fourth, winning the round on points. He showed the floor in the fifth and scored a mean upper cut on Hicks' head in the sixth. Mohr was victorious and Hicks was the loser.

In the final round there were some lively exchanges. Hicks at the height of the exchanges was having a hard right to the face, and was knocked out by Mohr in the tenth round.

MOTHER COMPROMISES SUIT TO KEEP CHILDREN'S LOVE

PUEBLO, Colo., April 9.—Rather than cause a break between herself and five children over an estate of $20,000 left by her husband, James E. Smith, who died two months ago, Mrs. Catherine Smith has decided in settlement $2,000 cash and $75 a month as long as she lives.

Upon the death of Smith, and the filing of his will for probate, an unusual document, which no one knew existed, came to light. This showed that 25 years ago Smith and his wife agreed to occupy the same house throughout their lifetime, but that they should not speak to each other. Mrs. Smith agreed to relinquish all rights to any interest in the estate on condition that she received $50 a month for the rest of her life.

The children were not apprised of the arrangement, nor was it made public for a quarter of a century, for fear scandal might arise. When the contract was entered into, Smith was a blacksmith. Subsequently he became wealthy at gold mining and of late years had been a large rancher in Pueblo county. The agreement was broken following the death of Smith when his wife sued for half of the property.

The children contested the suit and to avoid extended litigation and the loss of their love, she agreed to settle the case.

SCIENTIST HAD LIGHT BRAIN

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—The brain of Dr. John H. Musser, the noted diagnostician, who died here last Wednesday, is not as heavy as that of a well developed child, notwithstanding the fact that he was named as one of the greatest experts in the country on heart disease and his diagnoses on numerous diseases were sought by leading physicians all over the United States.

It weighs nearly 20 ounces less than the brain of Daniel Webster weighed and 24 ounces less than that of James Fisk. Scientists here consider that the light weight of the brain of Dr. Musser is something extraordinary, but they explain it by declaring that Dr. Musser worked along one line, not broadening out in all lines and, therefore, not fully developing all parts of the brain.

TWO MURDERERS MUST HANG FOR THEIR DEEDS

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 9.—Francisco Granada, convicted of the murder of Freeman and Clark at Mopollon, last February, when the Mogollon Mercantile company store was held up, and Irvin Frazier, alias John W. Gates, convicted of the murder of Deputy Sheriffs Tom Hall and A. L. Smithers, last November, in a running gun fight at the V Cross Ranch, were today sentenced by District Judge McChesney at Socorro to be hanged at Socorro, May 3. In each case the jury was out only a short time. The other man has been convicted of second degree murder.

BOULDER MAN ATTACKS TOWNSMAN WITH RAZOR

BOULDER, Colo., April 9.—The county court was crowded when the preliminary hearing of C. E. Schriver for assaulting William Nelschisel with a razor last Monday was heard. Testimony showed that Schriver started the fight, but that both men were willing it should proceed. Nelschisel is still in bed from his wounds. Schriver was bound over to the district court and released under $1,000 bond.

How a Hoosier Cabinet Saves Miles of Steps

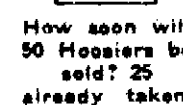

A Model Kitchen

Your table is the center of all your kitchen work. Everything you take to your stove, to your sink, to your dining room, first goes onto your table. Everything you bring from your pantry, refrigerator, cupboard, cellar, goes onto your table.

If you must walk from place to place to collect these things and put them back again, your kitchen is not ideal. It tires you.

Your ideal kitchen saves these steps by combining in the Hoosier Cabinet a pantry and cupboard around a big table covered with pure aluminum.

The Hoosier Cabinet puts everything at your fingers' ends. You can sit down at work. Your table is not cluttered. Spices, sugar, salt, dishes, flour, utensils—everything has its place. You get through quickly.

How soon will 50 Hoosiers be sold? 25 already taken.

How Low Fixed Price Protects You

The Hoosier Club Plan differs entirely from the installment plan which often is linked with unknown goods at high prices. The Hoosier Cabinet cost is lowered by great volume of Hoosier sales. To insure you full benefit of this cost saving the low price of the Hoosier Cabinet is fixed at the factory.

You enjoy the liberal credit of the club plan, without paying one penny more than this low fixed price.

Only 50 Women Can Join

Thousands of women all over America buy Hoosier Cabinets every month. With this great club offer the demand doubles. The number of Hoosiers on the Club Plan for each town is limited usually to 50, but we have secured permission to extend the membership to 50. Only one woman in five who wanted Hoosier Cabinets could get one in some towns where this plan was tried first. Those who want a real Hoosier Cabinet should enter their names early.

Get a "Model Kitchen Book" Free

A small supply of the "Model Kitchen Book," famous text-book on kitchens used in Domestic Science Schools, has been reserved for distribution among women interested in "model kitchens." It contains a complete description of the Hoosier Cabinet, and 25 illustrations, including several photographs of model kitchens. To each lady who asks, we shall be glad to give one of these books, while they last, free.
